

Managing Contractors

Health and safety law requires the client organisation to have some responsibility for contractor's activities - as should an accident occur at your premises involving a contractor, then questions will be asked of you, the contractors and the contractors' employer regarding how their activities were managed. This one day course includes:

- How to provide a safe place of work for the contractors
- How to ensure that your own employees are not put at risk from the actions of a contractor
- Ensure that your employees do not act in a manner which may endanger the safety of contractors
- Providing the contractor with information on the hazards and risk in the area where the contractors conduct their work
- Monitoring contractor's activities whilst on your site
- Signing-in procedures and basic induction including familiarisation with site rules

Course Location: On-Site at your premises

Course Duration: 1 Full Day, 9.30am - 4.30pm (date to suit you)

No. of Delegates: 10 delegates max

Course Benefits:

Delegates will learn what the Management Regulations require regarding contractors:

- Risk assessment: contractors should be considered within your risk assessments
- Health and Safety arrangements: setting up effective arrangements and procedures to ensure the safety of contractors
- Information: contractors should be provided with information on risks to their health & safety that have been identified by your risk assessments
- Co-operation and communication with contractors whilst they are working upon your site. Contractors need a site contact preferably in a managerial position with sufficient authority and competence
