Time Management

Achieve more by working more effectively

The most valuable resource available to staff is time. It is a common complaint that "there are not enough hours in the day", yet a typical manager devotes the majority of available time to low priority work. The potential to achieve more in your job is partly dependent upon how well time is managed. This is a participative course in which delegates will be given a series of exercises and guidance in improving their use of time.

Who should attend?

This course is ideal for every member of staff, particularly team leaders and managers.
